vidence of the merits of this Wheel we refer to the following extracts from the re f experiments made with the same by ITHA A. BEARD Esq Civil Engineer—Lowell, who is well known as one of the most Scienced experienced practical Engineers in this

e wheel is formed with curved floats he r depending upon the size and vent of he each extending so far around the Wheel, hen the water arrives at the foot its pressure r expended that it falls very nearly inert the Wheel The Wheel is inclosed in a cyl- wooden curb or flume, in which the water at its full head, the column being sustained tionary plate underneath the Wheel, so as no downward pressure upon the Wheel, stands perfectly free in the column of water, this arrangement all the friction on the step earing on the Wheel is avoided, and so much of wer saved which in the ordinary mode of opi is wholly lost a Wheel is adapted to low as well as high f water and will run as well in back water it providing the head rises in a freshet as the back water But a Wheel with the jets guarded for a high head will not answer for ne, and vice versa for a. the head increases, th of the jets should be proportionably deed so that the water may not issue to waste, ot give its best effect to the Wheel point of power the trial, shows conclusively he Wheel is superior to the best constructed t Wheels and it has the advantage of working good effect in situations where the Breast would be worthless as is liable to need re easily accessible when they are needed, much less room for a mill or shop—ears of strength durability of parts convenot appearance and excellence of power are and points of recommendation for the Wheel THAMAR A BEARD, Civil Engineer"

John S. Sayward,—Editor.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 1848.

WHIG NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

GEN. ZACHARY TAYLOR.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

MILLARD FILLMORE.

FOR GOVERNOR,

ELIJAH L. HAMLIN.

☞ Several of the leaders of the locofoco party have a new born, and of course a real concern, for the welfare of the Whig party and regret that the party have nominated Gen. TAYLOR, as it will endanger the principles of the party! To be sure, when they get a little excited and waxing they declare the Whig party has no principles, but this is only a safety valve for letting off extra steam to prevent their collapsing But their real concern and their deep and hearty anxiety are for the integrity of the Whig party and the regret is that the party is likely to lose its long cherished and well defined principles!

This new born interest of the locofocoleaders will undoubtedly be fully appreciated by the Whigs

It is clear enough that the locofoco leaders are greatly dissatisfied with the position which the Whig party has assumed before the country — They feel that their old columns are no longer available. They are met now with a new man, the true representative of the age, on whom the affections of the people are placed, and in whose sound judgment and honest heart the people place unbounded reliance.

Gen. Taylor is brought forward as the uncorrupted and the incorruptible reformer of political abuses, by that greatest of all reforms the infusion of inflexible honesty in the administration of the affairs of the country. He has felt how bad it is for the public service, and how terrible for those devoted to the public welfare to be coldly neglected, and abandoned or opposed by those in the high seats of power, who are moved by selfish and partizan purposes. He comes before the people as a corrector of abominations like this, and to extend the true meed of reward to every earnest and honest well doer. He comes to represent no stationary philosophy—no antiquated systems, no worn out theories He comes not in eager haste to outstrip the hurried progression of this steam driving and lightning age and child-like to grasp the rich fruits of the future in their greenness to wither in our hands, and prove tasteless as ashes. He comes rather with devoted patriotism and pure intentions to learn the people's will, and within the just limitations and balances which they have imposed as the organic political law, to administer the government in accordance with that will and for the promotion of the public honor and the people's welfare.

☞ The reception at the west of the news of Gen Cass' nomination, is said to have been about as cool as that of his brief note to the Western Harbor Convention. A colder reception awaits him in November, and a more contemptuous dismissal. A man whose aspirations are mingled with not a single one for the honor or interests of his country cannot expect the approval of the people. He seems willing to sacrifice all upon the altar of an unworthy ambition. Knowing this the voters of this Union will not commit their welfare to his keeping, but will bestow their suffrages upon the calm and reliable Patriot, Taylor, to whose unassuming manners, and deep devotion to the honor and welfare of his country caused him to be styled in honor, "Rough and Ready." He will listen to the voice of the people as expressed through their chosen representatives and believing in a government of the people, he will not thwart their purposes by a free use of the kingly power of the presidential veto. The West and the East, the North and the South, have undoubting confidence in the purity of intention, clearness of judgment, decision of character, sagacity and honesty of Gen Taylor, and will join in hands to promote his election.

FIRE.

One of the stores, in the brick block on Broad street, owned by Dr J B Fiske took fire yesterday afternoon, and the third and fourth stories, together with a portion of the roof were pretty thoroughly burnt out.

The store was undergoing repairs and carpenters had been at work in the upper stories, and the fire took among the shavings, from what cause we could not learn. The damage was probably between four and five hundred dollars. The building was insured at the Penobscot Mutual Office.

The fire department were out very promptly and worked like real heroes, showing that this department of the city is all of efficiency.

☞ A correspondent in the Mercury suggests in reference to the bill now before Congress to admit certain articles of the growth or production of Canada into the United States free of duty, upon the condition that the like articles of the growth and production of the United States are admitted into Canada free of duty, that the member of Congress from this Dist should be a man who thoroughly understands our lumbering interests, who may be relied upon to sustain them, and who possesses the talent and energy to defend them with power and success.—The suggestion is a good one, and will no doubt receive the attention of the whigs at their nominating convention.

☞ Lewis Cass, when at the court of Francis, wrote a book in which he lauded Louis Philippe to the skies. The Whigs of France have expelled him and his dynasty. The Whigs of the United States will not be less Republican than their ancient ally, and the expulsion of one Louis will soon be followed by that of the other. The banishment of Monarchy in the one country, cannot otherwise than be followed by the banishment from government of Monarchists in the other. The Whig feeling pervading Europe will be regarded to be that of America.

☞ It is suggested that the People of the West cannot harbor the idea of voting for that author of the six line letter to the Chicago Convention. The epistle is a fair to his prospects.—But even though he should float over that, he would be nagged on the proviso.

Whig Ratification Meeting.

On Friday evening there was an immense assemblage in Independence Square, Philadelphia to express approval of the nomination of General Taylor The Philadelphia papers pronounce the meeting probably the largest that was ever seen in that city. The Square was beautifully illuminated with Drummond, Bengola, and other lights, and it abounded with flags and banners. Bands of music were in attendance, and the roar of a artillery lent its power to give impressiveness to the scene Several platforms were erected for the presiding officers and speakers, and the entertainments of the occasion were kept up to a late hour. A great number of speeches was made and the occasion passed off enthusiastically, and to the acceptance of all.

Fire at Deer Isle.

On Friday evening last the store of Thomas S. Fuller took fire, and it had made such progress before discovered that all efforts to save the store were unavailing A part of the goods were saved in a damaged condition. It is not known how the fire originated, and there had not been any fire in the stove during the day, nor any light in the evening. Store insured, goods not insured.

☞ In spite of the impertinent and ominous warning indications in the nomination of Gen Taylor that he had support from every State in the Union. Another locofoco organ says that the better he is known, and the more people talk about and examine his character the better he is loved and the more he acquires the public esteem. He is indeed a second Washington and an administration will be hailed with joy by the great mass of the people.

☞ I did not desire the Presidency, and only consented to be a candidate in the same proportion in which it is compelled by the people irrespective of party; and he that cannot be trusted without pledges, cannot be trusted with them. I have no private purposes to accomplish—no party projects to build up—no enemies to punish—nothing to serve but my country."

☞ The Boston Atlas avows its determination to put on the harness and pull with all its strength for Gen Taylor, not because he is the man who ought to be chosen, but because he is the only one whom the Whigs can elect. The Atlas of this morning says:

"The question on which presented itself was not —Who will we elect? but the opposite—Who can we elect? and the decision was, we can elect Zachary Taylor, and we can elect no other man.

"As a National party, we must have victory now or never, and General Taylor alone of the distinguished candidates brought forward, could give us victory. It is believed, that while he is as good a Whig as any in the Union, he combines there with that indefinable yet unnecessary element of success, availability."

☞ Judge Saunders, of Louisiana, in the late Whig National Convention, was, on motion, allowed to defend Gen Taylor's position. He said a paper drawn up by the Louisiana delegation, as follows:

"The position occupied by Gen. Taylor in relation to the Presidency, does not seem to be correctly understood by many persons, and for that reason it is deemed proper by the delegation of Louisiana, to make some explanation and statement of his relation thereto, as may effectually remove all doubts which may have arisen from the effects of misrepresentation and misapprehension. General Taylor has taken no part in bringing his name before the American people, in connection with the presidency, nor does he present his name to this convention as a candidate; his friends throughout the country, not so discouraged them emphatically by him, have placed him prominently before the nation as with any of those who have proposed by the glorious labor of his country, and Gen Taylor consents to the nomination — the contest in which the leaders of his friends will have mastered from with the chapter; he has publicly and repeatedly stated that they might withdraw him whenever they thought the interest of the country required it, he does not consider that under the circumstances on which his name has been brought forward, it would be proper for him to withdraw in self. Such has been my position since he assented to the use of his name subsequent to the capture of Monterey, and such is his position now."

On behalf of the delegation from Louisiana, I will further state that Gen Taylor desires it to be understood, that in an opinion his friends who came into the convention, are bound by his acts, and to sustain the nominees heart and soul; that Gen Taylor recognized in his friends in this convention, the right to withdraw his name, and he will cheerfully acquiesce in such withdrawal. Gen Taylor we are also authorized to say, will feel with entire satisfaction any nomination beside himself, being persuaded that the welfare of our country requires a change of men and measures, in order to arrest the downward tendency of our national affairs.

On making the announcement, the delegates of Louisiana wished it to be distinctly understood that it involves no pecuniary sacrifice on the part of General Taylor. In case the choice of the convention should fall on another than Gen. Taylor, and this friends in this convention, withdraw their name, it will be their act, and not his, but in which he will cheerfully acquiesce; and by the act of making with this convention, his friends withdraw his name from the canvass, unless by the nomination of the convention — and we deem it proper to assure the Whigs of the union, that we decree the nomination and election of Gen. Taylor as the Presidency, on no other than broad national grounds.

The Manchester Tragedy—Smoking Developments—Great Excitement in Manchester.

About a week ago we published a paragraph stating that the body of a female, with her throat cut, had been found at Rock Raymond, Goffstown near Manchester. It subsequently turned out that the assertion was without foundation, and was made for the purpose of attracting attention in such direction that arrests might be secured in another.

Miss Sarah Furber, a beautiful and interesting girl in the employment of one of the manufacturing companies in Manchester, became acquainted with a young man named Hosea B McNabb, a son of Dr McNabb, of Boscawen, and a criminal connection ensued between them becoming apparent, the father of young McNabb attempted to produce an abortion upon the young woman, but under the unskillful treatment she died. The body, while yet warm, was then cut in pieces and packed in a small box, and brought to Boston by Dr. McNabb himself, where it was sold to a physician, as a subject for dissection — On the 6th inst., Mr Robert Means, City Marshal of Manchester, received a letter from G B Farnum, of this city, stating that Dr McNabb had left a box at his house, and that his wife and another woman overheard McNabb and another person in conversation about it — What they overheard led them to believe the box contained a subject for dissection, and having heard of the disappearance of Miss Furber, it was thought proper to inform Mr. Means — This information put Mr. on the right track, but that the guilty parties did not suspect his knowledge of the affair, the story that the body had been found at Rock Raymond was promulgated.

The box containing the body was taken to the Medical College in North Grove st., where Dr. O W Holmes on examination, suspected something was wrong about it, and ordered it taken away, threatening, at the same time that if his directions were not obeyed, he would have a coroner called to hold an investigation. Dr McNabb then gave the porter at the Hospital, Mr. Littlefield, five dollars to dispose of the body in any manner, suggested at the same time, not to be cut in suitable pieces and thrown into the vault. Littlefield pretended to assent to the proposition, but instead of acting in accordance with the suggestion, he embalmed the body, and immediately gave information to the police. It was taken charge of by them and fully recognized

While these proceedings were going on in Boston, young McNabb was arrested in Manchester, and an officer despatched to Vermont, whither the father had gone, and he was arrested on an executive warrant from the Governor of New Hampshire On examination of the deceased's effects, certain letters were found, among them one which led to the arrest of a portrait painter named Ingalls, on whom the warrant was served in the cars at Exeter, N H Dr McNabb, his son, and Mr Ingalls are now under keepers in Manchester, these being on public prison there, and will be examined before a magistrate to-day There is an intense excitement concerning the affair in Manchester, and the result of the judicial proceedings are looked for with the greatest anxiety. Dr McNabb was formerly clerk in a dry goods store in Hanover street, in this city. There are many harrowing circumstances in regard to his former character and reputation

Insurrection and Massacre at Martinique.

By the British mail packet Great Western, from St Thomas, June 1st, and Bermuda 6th, we learn that an insurrection of slaves occurred at Martinique, May 22d. About one hundred of the white population, including several women and children, were massacred; and considerable property was plundered and burnt

Neither the Governor nor the French man of war then lying in the harbor, interfered with the troops. The last packet stated them to be more tranquil but all business suspended At Guadaloupe they were quiet.—New York Journal of Com

CONGRESS.

The House convened on Friday. Hon. C Darling, the first representative from the State of Wisconsin, appeared, was qualified, and took his seat. There being no quorum present, the House adjourned to Saturday.

The House met on Saturday, but nothing of importance was transacted.

Nine Ex Governors in the Whig National Convention.

It is a remarkable fact that no less than nine gentlemen are delegates to the Whig National Convention now in session in this city, who have each been governors of their respective States, viz

1 Gov Kent, of Maine.
2 Gov Cobb, of New Hampshire
3 Gov Jackson, of Rhode Island,
4 Gov Pratt, of Maryland
5 Gov Morehead, of North Carolina.
6 Gov Crawford, of Georgia
7 Gov Gayle, of Alabama,
8 Gov Vance, of Ohio
9 Gov Jones, of Tennessee.

There were, we believe, eight Ex-Governors in the Whig National Convention of 1839, which nominated Gen Harrison.

Philadelphia Inquirer

A movement seems to be going on among the Democracy of New Jersey, somewhat similar in its character to the action of New York At the recent State Convention the President was authorized to appoint a new State Central Committee, although the old Committee, consisting of J C Potts, S R Hamilton, R Brandt, S McClerg and E J Grant, had only been appointed some eight months previous. The President, George Sykes, appointed a new Committee, and the old one refuses to acknowledge the change. The old Committee has called a State Convention to nominate an Electoral ticket, and the other wing of the party have issued proposals for a new paper in opposition to the Empariah, which is the organ of the Old Hunker clique.

Rules for the Journey of Life.

The following from the papers of Dr West, were according to his memorandum, thrown together as way-marks in the journey of life:

Never ridicule sacred things, or what others may esteem as such, however absurd they may appear to be

Never show levity when people are professedly engaged in worship.

Never resent a supposed injury till I know the view and motives of the author of it, nor on any occasion to retaliate.

Never to judge a person's character by external appearances.

Always take the part of an absent person who is censured in company, so far as truth and propriety will allow.

Never think the worse of an author or account of his difference with me in politics or religious opinions.

Never to dispute if I could justly avoid it.

Not to dispute with a man more than twenty-five years of age, nor with a woman, nor with an enthusiastic.

Not to affect to be witty, or to jest so as to wound the feelings of another

To say as little as possible of myself, and those who are near me

To aim at cheerfulness without levity.

Not to obtrude my advice unasked.

Never to court the favor of the rich by flattering either their vanity or their vices.

To speak with calmness and deliberation on all occasions, especially on all subjects that tend to irritate.

Frequently to review my conduct and estimate my feelings.

On all occasions have in prospect the end of life and a future state.

Not to suffer myself that I can rise up to these rules however no honestly I may aim at it.

☞ I am happy to see that he [Santa Anna] left Mexico under a deep impression of the kindness he has received from the American — Wash Union.

To what 'kindness' does the government editor refer as having been received from the Americans? Is it the 'kindness' received by him at Buena Vista?—or the 'kindness' received by him from Gen Scott, at Cerro Gordo and Chapultepec?—or the 'kindness' received by him from Mr Polk on the matter of this famous 'pass into Vera Cruz?—Pre ntice.

New Work by Miss Bremer.

It is stated that a new novel by Frederika Bremer, entitled Brothers and Sisters, a Tale of Domestic Life, by Frederika Bremer, translated by Mary Dowitt, from the original unpublished manuscript, is announced in a London Paper of May 15, as just published by Colburn, in three volumes octavo.

Aspirations.

BY AN ENGLISH WORKINGMAN.

I would be strong,
Strong in the integrity of mental power,
Steadfast as the when tempests o'er me lower,
Or flatterers around me throng.

I would be brave;
Brave in the few less might of truthful thought
To burst the chain around the fettered wrought,
And free the injured slave.

I would be free;
Free as the streamlet from the mountain gush
Free as the eagle through wide heaven rushing;
And free my brother free.

I would be wise;
Wise in the knowledge of my soul and heart,
Studying in Nature's book a freeman's part,
Read with a freeman's eyes

I would be firm;
Firm in the utterance of heartfelt thought,
Neither by smiles cajoled nor interest bought,
In duty's resolves stern.

I would be true;
True to my conscience—true to Nature's laws,
And true to sacred Freedom's glorious cause,
Through all life's changes true.

I would be great;
Not in the estimation of the crowd,
Who prize aloud rank's tinsel-coated cloud,
Wishing man's true estate;

But great in fame;
Based on good deeds wrought ever for the poor,
And thus would leave in time a hopeful trust
A pure unspotted name.

Not by the outward show,
The church attendance and the loud worded prayer
Nor by the lengthened visage, men shall know
Him whom the signet of the Master bears.

THE BEST TRUSS IN USE

Is DR J. W. PHELPS' Patent Coiled Spiral Truss and Abdominal Supporter.

NEW YORK GRATUITOUS INFIRMARY, 70 Nassau St.,
May 29 1848.

I have examined Dr J W Phelps's newly invented Patent Spiral Truss, and concur with Doctors Valentine Mott, Stevens, and Parker, in their opinions of the principle and manufacture. Having an Inguinal rupture myself, and used various kinds of Trusses for the last ten years, I can testify to my own experience, and finding the application of the spiral pressure and the setting of the pad to return at once many patients I have to prescribe it, recommending it, in preference to any I have seen.

SAMUEL H. P. LEE, M. D. U. S.

To Mr J. W. Phelps.—Sir,—I comply with pleasure with your request for my opinion of your Abdominal Supporter for Prolapsus Uteri. I have recommended it in many cases, and have heard much satisfaction expressed with its use. It is light, keeps its place very well, gives the support required, and is not as expensive as to prevent its use by those whose means are small, and who so frequently suffer from Prolapsus. I like it with great pleasure my recommendation

WALTER CHANNING.

Boston, April 26, 1845.

A VALUABLE TESTIMONY.

We think at all times to give credit when credit is due, and if at the same time we can relieve the distressed, we are doubly gratified we therefore give the following testimony and recommend to the beneficial effects of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, by the editor of the Columbia South Carolinian, who appears to have obtained great relief—[Old Dominion, Portsmouth, Va.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

We seldom resort to patent med cines, having a great respect for the skill of the regular profession, but change our view in the case of the above named med cine, from what is related by a friend of the last session of the Legislature, when our lungs were almost dried up by the high pressed air of our steam-warmed State house. The Balsam immediately relieved us of a most harassing cough, which threatened our death in a serious degree. We feel that we are it debted to it for some fifteen pounds of animal weight—which addition gives FELT thanks be forwarded.

Chloroform Toothache Drops.

It is well known that "CHLOROFORM" has superseded (in a great measure) the use of Mercury, as an allayer of pain, and is now used by the most Eminent and Scientific in the profession. A concentrated Chloride (and one of the best manufactories of Chloroform,) has discovered and "Chloroform" with other simple ingredients, will instantly cure the "TOOTHACHE." After hearing it in many cases it has never failed to give relief; there is no possible danger in using it, as it will not injure the mouth in the slightest. All that is necessary to use these drops, is to saturate well a bit of cotton wool, and place in the cavity of the tooth. Instructions accompany each bottle. None genuine without the signature of Butts & Price on the wrapper. Sold at No. 10 Tremont Row Boston.

BO! BO! YOU'RE GETTING BALD, ARE YOU?

Well, that is a misfortune, and not a crime, but to remain bald, when an application of a few cents per month will restore your hair, by a healthful and liberal growth, is a folly worse than crime. This valuable preparation effects the scalp in a new and healthy manner, cleanses it from dandruff and humor, prevents the hair from falling off, forces those exquisite feelers which often appear on the head, and in a majority of cases produces a fine growth of new hair. It also gives the hair a rich and most beautiful appearance, unequalled by any thing of the kind.

IS THIS MEDICINE?

We exclaimed the other day on tasting some of Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge. It certainly had none of the nauseous flavor which one associates with the idea of physic—Children consider it quite a treat, and as to get their palates are gratified, and their health restored at the same time. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge not only destroys worms but carries off the mucus in which they are imbedded and effects a radical and permanent cure. Everyone that knows the pleasant sensation of worms crawling, feasting, fretting and gnawing at the vitals during sleep, paleness of the lips, itching of the nose, &c., but there is other ills is not so generally recognized—A dry cough, ill turn, enlargement of the abdomen and many other symptoms common to other diseases, frequently denote the presence of worms. If their existence is even suspected, the Vermifuge should be administered, because it can do no harm in any case, and may be incalculable good.

DISEASES OF THE Throat and Lungs.

COUGHS and Colds, as a first symptom of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pleurisy, Influenza, and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs, are generally the foundation of the most fatal diseases that afflict mankind. A few cases of these diseases neglected, and the Patient is considered incurable, and the Physician, deceived by the insidious nature of the disease, pronounces it Consumption, &c. But when the proper remedies are used in time, a perfect cure is certain. The following is one of the numerous cases daily occurring, which are considered incurable, and the Patient given up to die, by the most eminent Physicians, which have been cured by the use of
